

ENSULIB .pdf 23-25

#	Output name	Output type	Output description	Projected Completi...	Steps (optio...	Committee N...
1	IFLA Green Library Award 2024	Mid-term and other event (virtual) (not WLIC)	The Green Library Award initiative has been led by ENSULIB since 2016. Plans for the 2024 Award include: A promotional video has been produced for the Award. Completed. A new sponsor is being sought for the Award prize. Under work - sponsor prospectus accepted by HQ; seeking a new sponsor can now be progressed. The Award criteria are being reviewed. The 2024 Awards Schedule is planned as follows: o Call for submissions Nov / Dec 2023 - Done o Submissions deadline end of Jan - Extended to Feb 15 o Review >> publish long list in Feb / March - postponed March/April o Short list published in May o Winners announced at a virtual event in August 2024 - winners announced in October, Barcelona.	2024-10-31 00:00:00	📅 0/0	ENSULIB (Environment, Sustainability & Libraries)
2	Book Project: Sustainable Libraries as Partners for Driving Sustainable Development Education	IFLA Publication	Background: The volume will be published on behalf of IFLA's Environment, Sustainability and Libraries Section (ENSULIB) by de Gruyter/Saur Publisher, Berlin/Boston, in print and digital online format with open access, provided to be published in the IFLA Publications Series. Objectives: The book project refers to the UNESCO Education for Sustainable Development Programme. Libraries are often overlooked in efforts to turn around education and early learning. Even libraries and librarians often do not identify their work as an important contributor to achieving the SDGs, although many examples can be found on IFLA's Library Map of the World. It is crucial to prominently recognize that libraries as learning institutions, especially green and sustainable libraries, are active partners in driving Education for	2025-01-31 00:00:00	📅 0/0	ENSULIB (Environment, Sustainability & Libraries)
3	Webinar Series	Professional Development	This webinar series is situated in the need to enhance understanding across the library sector of existing, innovative initiatives and opportunities for libraries to contribute to sustainability and to become greener in their practices. ENSULIB will continue its successful webinar series through 2024, inviting experts and practitioners in the field of sustainability and libraries to share insights with the broader community. Recordings of past webinars can be found here: https://www.ifla.org/g/environment-sustainability-and-libraries/ifla-ensulib-webinar-series/	2023-12-31 00:00:00	📅 0/0	ENSULIB (Environment, Sustainability & Libraries)
4	ENSULIB Newsletter	SDG Story	ENSULIB will continue to publish its twice yearly newsletter that captures stories about library sustainability initiatives from across the world. The newsletter is mailed out to the ENSULIB mailing list but is also made publicly available on the ENSULIB web site (download from the repository) and promoted in social media, to reach a wide, global library audience.	2024-12-31 00:00:00	📅 0/0	ENSULIB (Environment, Sustainability & Libraries)
5	Tools and Resources for Green Libraries	Best Practice or Guidance Resource (Not IFLA Standard/Guideline)	Green Library Toolbox updates: Green Library Checklist 2024: Review, update, and publish the Green Library Checklist to include library services as well as buildings. The current German version will be used as a base for the new international version. Green library poster - for another 12 months. Guidelines for Green Libraries 2025 - The HQ standards for guidelines need to be researched followed; it was agreed to do research this year and set a timeline to create the guidelines next year.	2024-12-31 00:00:00	📅 0/0	ENSULIB (Environment, Sustainability & Libraries)

#	Output name	Output type	Output description	Projected Completi...	Steps (optio...	Committee N...
6	Collaboration with the Second Green Library Conference	Professional Development	ENSULIB participates the planning and realization of Let's Go Green - The Second Green Library Conference in Zagreb Croatia (9 & 10 November 2023)	2023-11-10 11:18:38	📅 0/0	ENSULIB (Environment, Sustainability & Libraries)